Rich Carone

Rich Carone is a wonderful asset to our community here at Grossmont Gardens! He is very involved with activities such as Black Jack, Five Crowns, Unlucky Sevens and was in our Christmas play in December. Rich was born in Morgan Town, West Virgina. He was raised by two immigrant Italians and has one sister. He says when he was young, he loved playing football. Rich was a business owner and had his own construction company. He says eventually him and his wife got an RV and they traveled to eleven western states where they did a lot of camping and adventuring. Rich says they also had a house in Julian for their weekend getaways with his wife, 3 sons and one daughter. Rich says his favorite thing about Grossmont Gardens are the people! He has enjoyed the connections he has made here. When asked what piece of advice he would give, he said "Don't get married too young."

The Story Behind the Plate

On April 25, 1901, New became the first state require license plates on vehicles. At that time, the state didn't provide the plates. Rather, individuals created their own license plates out of leather, brass, or whatever was available.

When people began to create unlawful plates, state governments stepped in and began making their own.

In 1903, Massachusetts became the first state to issue plates. The very first license plate was number 1, issued to a man named Frederick Tudor. Amazingly, his family still maintains an active registration, which gives them the right to use the number 1 on a modern plate.

The first plates were made of iron covered in porcelain enamel. The background was a dark blue with the numbers in white. There were no standard sizes back in the early days of license plates. The more numbers on the plate, the larger the plate got. Motorcycles, too, needed license plates. The first looked identical to car plates, but started with the letter Z.

As if letters and numbers weren't enough, many plates have had slogans touting a state's fame or history. In our quiz below, try to connect each state with one of its license plate slogans.
